SPEAK-EASIES IN COURT. Two Tenleytown "speak-casies" were discussed in Judge Kimball's court this morning. Riley and Samuel Boley. Policeman Easely was the prosecuting witness in the case, and he called several residents of the county, who told of having purchased liquor at the defendants' places. Judge Kimball fined the men $50 or ninety days each, and not having the nece funds they took the ninety days.

NOTES. At Masonic Hall last night the annual election of officers of the George C. Whiting Lodge, No. 22, F. A. A. M., was held, with the following result: F. P. Davis, worshipful master; James T. THE ALEXANDRIA LIBRARY. A torpor seems to have crept upon the scheme for the establishment of a reading room at the Peabody building and the reopening of Alexandria library with such additions of encyclopedias, &c., as to make it useful as a public reference library. The Alexandria library will soon reach its centennial, having been established in 1796, when Alexandria had less than Pigeon Clubs of America will be held on the 6,000 inhabitants, but it has been subjected to 15th instant at the rooms of the Washington periods of suspended animation, one of the longest extending twenty years. It has, however, been from time to time revived, and for decade after decade has had its mission of usefulness. The difference between the attractions of newspapers and of are expected to be present. The meeting will books was notably illustrated by an event in be called to order at 2 p.m. for the afternoon the history of the library in 1857. The library rooms, then in the Lyceum Hall building, wer open each afternoon and evening, but there were few readers at the rooms. In that year copy of THE EVENING STAR was supplied to the library and the attendance within one month increased 70 per cent. The library has now a permanent home at the Peabody building and with a little enterprise and expense may again become a most useful factor in the life of the AN OLD ALEXANDRIAN.

The notice in THE STAR of the death of Mr. Ephraim Wheeler was read with regret here Mr. Wheeler was a native Alexandrian, and the old Wheeler homestead, underpinned on Prince street near Payne, has but recently given place to more modern dwellings. WHY Is IT

That Hood's Sarsaparilla is so successful for Catarrh The reason is simple enough. Catarrh is refilly a disease of the blood, and Hood's Sarsaparilla purifier the blood. If you did not have CATARRII you might have some other form of blood disease, such as scrofula or salt rheum. While it eliminates all impurities from the blood, Hood's Sarsaparilla also tones and builds up the system, overcomes that tired feeling, cures indigestion and creates a good appetite HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

My Dear Sir:
I really believe I consult the Century Dictionary that I have at my home oftener than I do the one at my office, which is saying a great deal.

The chief excellence of the work is its exposition of the language as we hear it and understand it and use it in every-day life.

When, for instance, I compare the Century's preferred pronunciation of "squalor" or its definition of "humanitarian" with these of my Webster of 1882 that I have so long recarded as authority, I am impressed with the necessity of having for the ready reference of my family (especially my growing loops and girls) a dictionary that is abreast of the times and that gives the language up to date, so to speak.

Faithfully yours,

Read Again and Reflect. Instances are well authenticated of unsuccess ful effort to dispose of Furniture "left overs" by extensive advertising at "cut" rates, but the "stickers" could not be budged and rather than give them longer storage room they have been bustled to the auctioneer's and disposed of for anything offered. Constant repetition of this feature in business is bound to result in disaster.
